"Why do I succeed? I succeed because I am willing to do the things you are not. I will fight against the odds. I will sacrifice. I am not shackled by fear, insecurity or doubt. I feel those emotions--drink them in and then swallow them away to the blackness of hell. I am motivated by accomplishment. Not pride. Pride consumes the weak--kills their heart from within. If I fall--I will get up. If I am beaten--I will return. I will never stop getting better. I will never give up--ever. That is why I succeed."

Quizzing Combinations

Race to Class

Friends Savanna Hill and Olivia Kubaska make their way through the freshman hallway. Savanna leads and Olivia follows her through the crowd hoping not to lose her friend before class! Who will get there first?

Hallway Madness

You don't want to be caught in the under- classman hallway between classes. Freshman Gretchen Martineau makes her way through the crowded mess trying to get to class in one piece.

FEARS

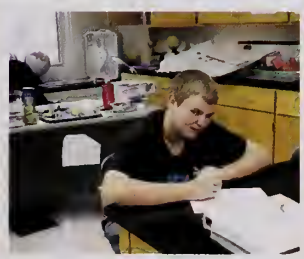
During the outdoor events of spirit week, Mikey Moutevelis eats to the finish during pie eating contest against senior and reigning champion Kyle Barber.

Skylar Hambley races to the finish line during the spirit week tricycle relay. Skylar speeds down the gym determined to beat the sophomores and not come in last!

UNDERCLASSMEN

"Say Uncle"

It's not very often you can say your uncle is your gym teacher. Freshman Ciara O'Flynn stands with her uncle Gardy on a windy November day at the IHS tennis courts during PE class. Some might think having your uncle as a PE teacher would be difficult but it doesn't stop Ciara! "It is fun having my uncle as my gym teacher because sometimes I get used as an example but other than that I am treated the same!"



FROSH

The freshmen try and pull it together during the tug of war against all the upperclassmen! Gabby D'Agostino, Sarah Wallis and Jeremy Martineau show their strength by handling the middle part of the rope.

arina Frontiero, Sarah Jacklin and bey Sadoway pose in their "White t" outfits starting off the first day of irit week with a bang! Points for the shmen!

Kendall Trepanier and Caitlyn Scola prepare for the football toss event. How far can Kendall throw to score points for the freshmen? And will Caitlyn catch it?

Sophomores Pull Together

During tug of war, JoAnna Perry, along with the team work of Jared Conway, Marley Henderson, and other members of the sophomore class help to defeat the freshmen on the football field. After losing the first round to the juniors, they had to give all the strength they had left to beat the freshmen and avoid coming in last for this event. With the win against the freshmen, JoAnna and the other sophomores helped to get their class third place for tug of war. "I love spirit week," said JoAnna, "because I feel like a part of something fun and important that unifies our school."

...We Were Enthusiastic

Ready, Set, Shoot!

Screaming for Spirit

Trying to win points for Spirit Week during the class yell, Nate Glaster, David Conway, and Kyle Blomster give it all they have, yelling as loud as they possibly can.

Getting into Character

On black and orange day, Hannah Wallis goes all out by wearing a tiger hat. She shows her spirit by wearing it all day and using her enthusiasm during the pep rally.

Leading by Example

unior class vice president, Britta Galanis shows adership by screaming as loud as she can for her class uring the spirit week pep rally.

FACULTY~FACULTY~FACULTY

Vice Principal Mr. Carovillano and Principal Mr. Dalton

Dear Members of the Class of 2013:

This yearbook is the emblem of your high school experience. I hope that you look back fondly on your high school years and the social and academic experiences that helped to launch your future goals.

The faculty and staff of Ipswich High School will remember the Class of 2013 as a dedicated and hardworking group. Your academic and extra curricular accomplishments have had a positive impact on our school culture. This yearbook depicts your journey for all of us to see. As you visit and revisit these photos and stories, remember the special relationships that you built with one another and with faculty and staff. These are the memories that are the true treasures of your high school experience.

I wish you the very best.

. . . They Encouraged

Genius with Goggles

On November 15th during his first period chemistry class, Mr. Ingram excites his students by showing his famous Elephant Toothpaste Experiment. Mr. Ingram has been teaching science at IHS for five years now. "In regards to learning, it's not as important what you have learned, but how you learn it," Mr. Ingram said.

New Teachers with New Opportunities

ner Lynn Police Officer Mr. Vatour is a brand new special education teacher assistant at school. When asked about his first day here he described it as, "Different from what I used to, but everybody was great." It isn't a shock for Mr. Vatour to see his new career ifferent considering how he switched careers so drastically. Now instead of hearing the e sirens all the time, he lives by the three toned bell we all know so well. Even though a as changed about his life, what hasn't changed about Mr. Vatour is his drive to help ple. As a police officer, his duty was to protect people and now he helps students get the cation they deserve. Having a former police officer as a teacher is just another thing that es IHS so unique.

Shakespearean Spirit

Carla Panciera, advisor to the Poetry Club and English teacher, dons Shakespearean apparel during Spirit Week. After posing in a "come hither" gesture from the Shakespeare poem Under the Greenwood Tree, Panciera explains her head turning attire.
"I asked the new drama teacher (Ms. Higgins) if she could help me out and I think between Isabella Cassano and Emily Parker, they helped me out. They thought I wanted to be an Elizabethan character, so they brought me all these gowns I could wear. I said, 'I don't want to be in a Renaissance dress. I want to be Shakespeare. Not his time.'" Eventually, she ended up getting the Shakespeare costume that was used in the Drop Dead Juliet play drama did for competition two years ago. Whether you enjoy Shakespeare or find his work confusing, seeing a teacher dress up as Shakespeare during one of the busiest weeks of the year was universally fascinating.

The Show Must Go On

is year, tradition continued with our new director, Ms. Higgins. She has done an amazing getting acquainted with the new theatre crew who put on the production of Once upon a attress this fall. As the new director, Ms. Higgins wasn't sure how her first play at Ipswich uld go. "I was amazed by the depth of talent, it was something I haven't seen before," she id while explaining her experiences at other schools. Ms. Higgins also expressed how uch she appreciated that "Tina Ames and the techies did the lights for the show," as the ht sequencing was all thought up by the tech group while fixing sound and movie props on age. The graduating seniors this year say, "All in all it has been a blast," and "We can't it to get started on the next show."

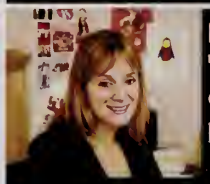
You never stop learning. If you have a teacher, you never stop being a student.

- Elisabeth Rohm

Gardy

As a high school student, Gardy's favorite part was "the involvement in sports." His favorite sport was basketball and he loved gym. His love for sports and exercise have carried over from his high school years and has influenced the students at Ipswich High.

Ms. McShane and Don Carlos



Favorite Joke: "It's not appropriate -- I plead the fifth."

Teacher Superlatives

Mr. Seeley

Mr. Seeley has been a substitute teacher at Ipswich High for six years now. He's grown with the school and with his students. His favorite class to teach is "English because before he was a substitute (he) taught it for 37 years at Salem High School."

Mrs. Hoyle

Mrs. Hoyle has always had a passion for science. Her career took a turn when she realized she needed a change. " In college, I switched from medical tech to education because I'm more of a people person." Her favorite part of teaching is "the kids". The feeling is mutual as she won Most Unforgettable this year.

A good teacher can inspire hope, ignite the imagination, and instill a love of learning.

SIGNING SENIORS

Seniors Kellie Roach, Shey Coughlin and Molly Ryan sign the first letter of their names during their second period Sign Language independent study. The three seniors decided to study the new language in the pod at the start of the second quarter, supervised by Spanish teacher Don Carlos. "We wanted to learn a different type of language besides a foreign language." Says Molly. The three watch videos and lessons online to learn new commands and words. "I really enjoy the experience of being introduced to a new form of communication," Shey says, "it's thrilling."

A Blast from the Vu Crew

Senior Ryan Slaven bellows on his vuvuzela during spirit week. Slaven is part of the self-dubbed "Vu Crew". When asked about the group slaven said, "The Vu Crew is a brotherhood, you're either part of it or your not." The group made their presence known, blaring their horns whenever they could to demonstrate their school spirit.

Pride in a Nation

Dan D'Agostino, a senior, proudly brandishes an American flag during the indoor events of spirit week in the upper gym. When asked why he wore the flag, he responded: "By showing pride in my nation, I can help rally my school, and what's wrong with that?" If anything, we should all be more like Dan.

During the Spirit Week at the Wall Event, sophomore Meredith Kercher volunteered to walk around in her karate uniform. She has been doing Karate for ten years and is a second degree black belt. As if that isn't enough to make you not want to mess with her, she also has a black belt in Tae kwon do!

Cool Cats

The senior class came up with a creative theme for their wall this year, narrowly edging out the underclassmen with their retro-fifties styles. It felt like a scene right out of Grease as they danced, roller skated, and plied the crowd with tasty snacks.

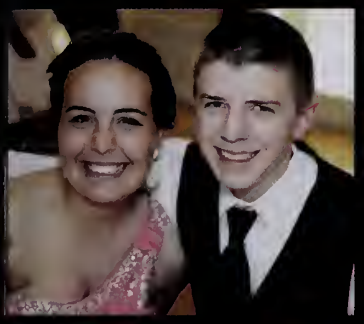
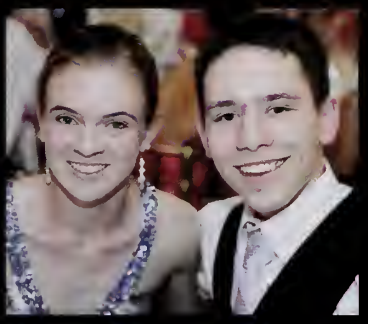
The Hellenic Center





The Hellenic Center has been the site for Ipswich High's Junior Prom time after time. Walking through the archway always leaves a memory, and anyone would love to have the moment captured in a photo. Pictured around this text are pictures of students who attended prom together. Family friends Samantha Brouillette & Joey Spinale are pictured to the upper left. The picture below them shows Zach Angell & Sarah Keiran, who were voted class couple. Below them are Tess Martin & Harry Bouve. In the bottom left corner, there is a picture of Elsa Kallman & Slater Sullivan. Next to them, from left to right, Sarah Antonucci & Jeremy Stelline, Sam Woolfolk & Leine Dietz, Ryan Davis & Tess Hanna, and Ben Communale & Nicole Roach line the bottom the page. To the lower right is John Elnagger & Courtney Long, both with a feather in their hair. Above them, there is a picture of Henry Sacco & Bryn Golesworthy, matching together in all white. To the upper right, Sam Solimeno & Brian Silverstein flash a smile right before dinner. Finally, pictured above from left to right, Josh Colameta & Sarah Nelson, Maddie Werner & Conor O'Kelly, Aleks Kuljic & Bridget Trefry, and good friends, Effie Markopoulos & Tucker Reedy.

Who doesn't belong? Effie and Tucker are the only ones on the page who did not go together, but they're such good friends that they had to take a picture.

Feta has been passed down through the Markos family, originally owned by Molly’s grandmother. Carpool after carpool and practice after practice, even with some broken pieces, Feta is still going strong. “She’s a sprinter, not a marathon runner; she can’t go long distance”, states Olivia Moutevelis. Feta is a car that impacts not only her owners, but all who know her name.

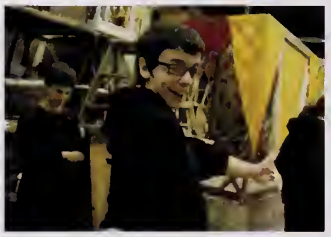
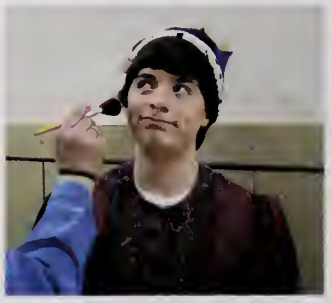
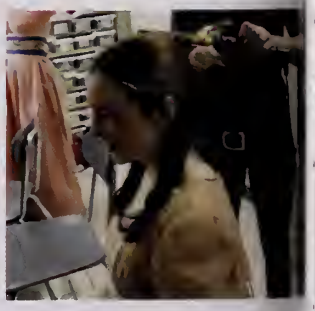
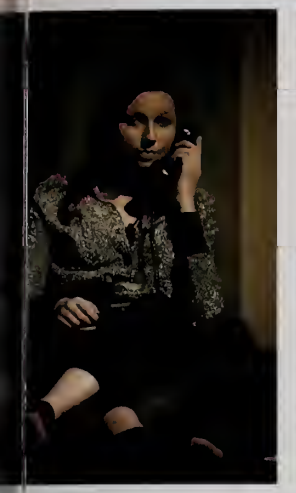
Family Performance

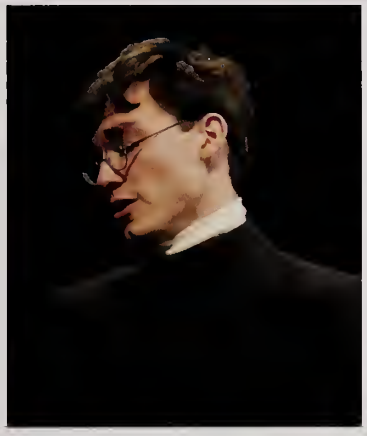
Whenever a group of very talented seniors graduates, there is bound to be some anxiety about the next year. The Company of Ipswich High School were feeling nervous tensions as their first play with a new group approached. Once Upon A Mattress was truly a fairy tale not only in the story itself, but in the way it was performed. Senior actor Tom Sternberg recalls, "The show came off like a diamond rocket. Exquisite. Speaking as a veteran of every high school show for the past four years, I can't name a better one. Nor can I possibly think of a cast I've grown closer with. I thought all my best friends left for college last year. I've never been more happily wrong." Not only did the drama club grow together for the perfect performance, they grew as a family, ready for the next challenge; spring competition.











Competitive Drama

Misconception, directed by Meg Finnegan and Rebecca Bascom of Ipswich High School, was first created as an original competition piece. Set in the early 1990s, it tells the story of a young woman named Christine (Isabella Cassano) and her boyfriend Chuck (Conor O'Kelly) who struggle to understand not only Christine's mysterious pregnancy, but the very nature of faith itself. Supporting roles feature Tom Sternberg as Father Raymond, and Kelly Phelan as Jill, Christine's best friend. Shannon Halliday plays a messenger who adds to the ambiguity of the play's misconceptions, while her sister Devon Halliday serves as the student director.

We Got Technical

Technical Excellence

When the cast takes the stage for their rehearsal the work doesn't begin there. Tech crews have already spent hours building sets, running wires, painting, hunting for props, and rigging lights. The Ipswich Techies (and Techies for Hire) are no strangers to this kind of hard work. In addition to working shows, many techies run town meetings, assemblies, and other events in the PAC. The result? Top notch shows and a reputation for excellence in set design, lighting, and technical theater!

HE BLEEDS BLACK AND ORANGE

Junior star running back Derek Chamberlain pins his ears back and fights for that extra yard on that muggy Saturday morning against Triton. Protected by Ben O'Neil and Brendan Sweeney, Chamberlain ran all over the Triton defense, to state he was on his home turf "The papers predict us to lose, and I bet some of the fans have their doubts, let's show them that Ipswich Football is back." Ipswich began the season 0-2 after a heart wrenching loss to whittier in over-time, but after a crtical 19-7 victory, they hoped to roll with confidence.

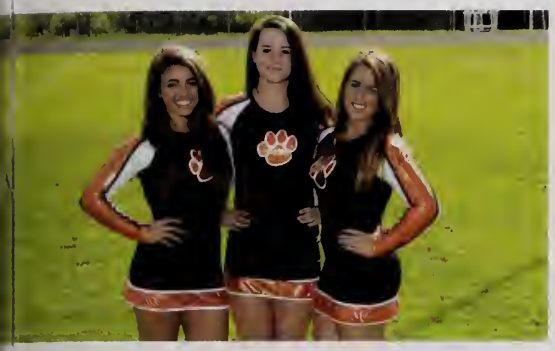
They fly through the air with an ease that demonstrates their dedication to the sport. This manuever is a staple in Ipswich's Cheerleading routines and was perormed flawlessley in the pep rally this fall.



Varsity Cheerleading

One Family

After taking the title of 2012 Division 4 CAL champs, the varsity cheerleading team prepares to perform their winning performance at this year's pep rally during spirit week. "Before every competition, we circle up, and give a pep talk before we take the mat," said Bridget Trefry, the only senior cheerleader. "Most students don't get a chance to see our routines unless they come to the football games or our competitions, so we were really excited to show everyone what we can do." The cheerleaders' hard work and effort paid off as they have qualified for the national championship for the second year in a row.

Brandishing wristbands bearing the number 18, the Tigers came together following a season-ending injury for Junior Captain, Matt Jaeger. Despite the lack of hope, the team united dedicating the tournament to him. This turned their season around and helped bring them far into the state competition, ending the season with a 9-7-4 record. Jaeger is recovering fast and will be returning as senior captain ready to lead the Tigers into the playoffs next year.

BOYS X-C

IHS MUST HAVES

Every few year a new trend emerges at Ipswich High School. This past couple of years, the highlight of IHS trends have been the upcoming technology of the IPhone or Droid, along with fashionable slip-on shoes. There's no need to go to your locker if all of your books are in the convenience of a drawstring backpack or large purse. And what would keep you warm without the fashionable North Face or Patagonia jacket?

Drawstring Backpack vs. Nothing

At IHS there is an ongoing disagreement with the office on whether we should be allowed to carry backpacks. Some take this rule lightly by carrying around drawstring backpacks while others give in and carry their books to class.

Toms vs. Uggs

Ipswich High school girls wear many different types of shoes but lately the two main types have been Toms and Uggs.

Sperrys vs. Nikes

Looking down at the shoes boys have been wearing lately, you will most likely see the stylish Topsider Sperry's or the well-known Nike sneakers.

iPhone vs. Android

At IHS, there's an unending war between the Android and the IPhone. Will you remember which side you were on?

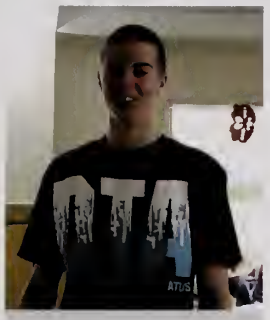
Patagonia vs. North Face

Patagonia jackets are a newer trend to IHS. North Face jackets have been around for years now, but the new variety of colors and styles are still making it a popular jacket. It must be that everyone is wearing North Faces and others want to start a new trend. Which jacket did you wear to keep you warm during the chilly New England months?

What's Your Favorite Pick-Up Line?

Chris Yanakakis

Hi, I'm Chris. I like long walks on the beach, insightful talks by the firelight and I'm not afraid of my feelings."

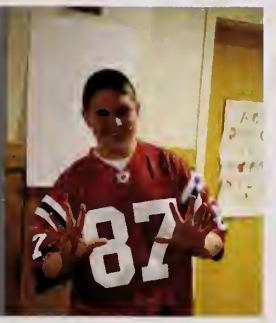


JW Smith

"If beauty were measure in time, you would be an eternity."

Dewey Robinson IV

"Are you from Tennessee, because you're the only 10 I see"



Eliza Statile

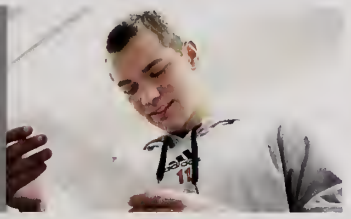
"My name isn't Elmo, but you can tickle me any time you want to."

Kendall Trepanier

"Was that an earthquake or did you just rock my world?"

Ryan Law

"If I had a nickel for every time I saw someone as beautiful as you, I'd have five cents."



Mrs. Hoyle

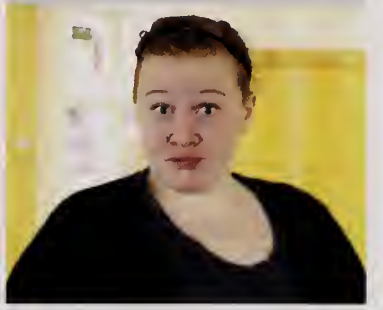
"I wish I were a coronary artery as I would be wrapped around your heart."

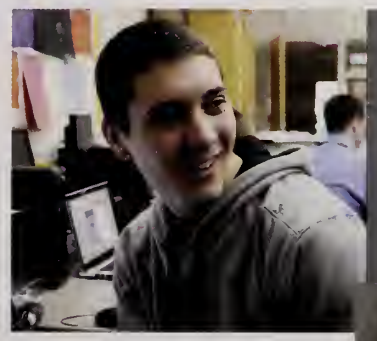
Natalie Soliozy

"Do you have a band aid? Because I scraped my knee when I fell for you."

Celia Zampitella

"Did you fart? Because you just blew me away."





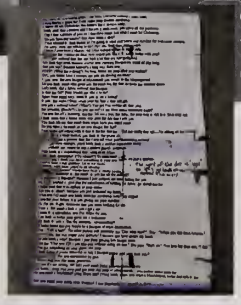
Jeremy T. Romano

"I may not be a grocery item but I can still tell when you're checking me out."

Just in case you're short of a pick-up line, go to JT, who has a list of pick-up lines he's been carrying in his wallet since 6th grade.

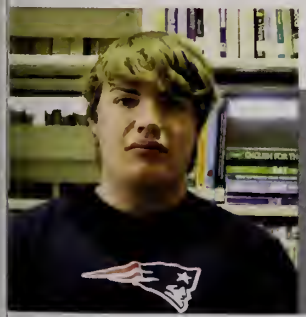
Mr. Ingram

"Are your legs tired? Because you have been running through my mind all day."



Matt Jaeger

"If you were a booger I would pick you first."



Tim Collyer

"Good thing I have a library card because I'm checking you out."

Tess Martin

"You're so hot when I look at you I get a tan."

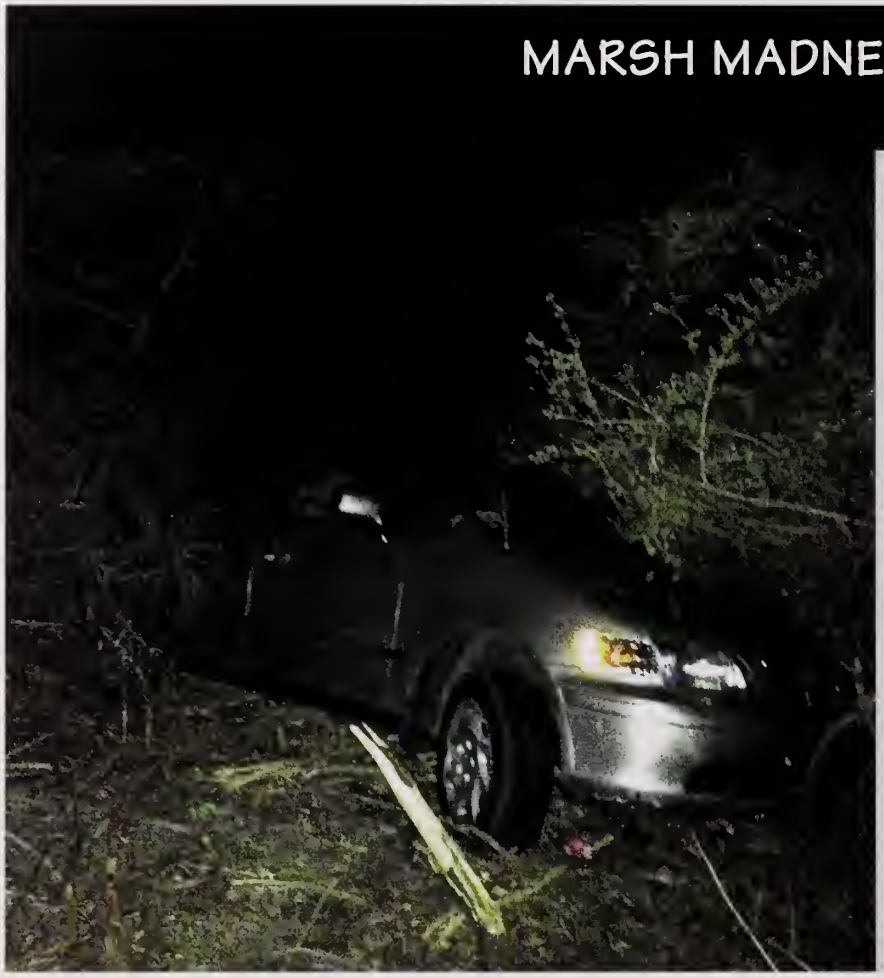
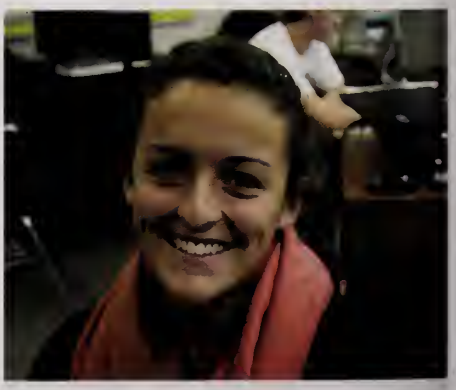
Driving DISASTERS

MARSH MADNESS



Last April, while driving around on Clark Road with friends, Dewey Robinson IV said he "hit the gas too hard while going in reverse and backed into the marsh. Luckily, no one was hurt!" The damage to the car seemed minimal but instead of calling a tow truck for help, he called friends with trucks that could pull him out. Dewey remembers that "at least six trucks showed up, lights glaring engines roaring. They each had a few kids with them, so there were about twenty kids chilling on Clark Road. They also had a scanner with them and suddenly we heard the cops were called for a 'noise complaint on Clark Road' so everyone took off." Dewey was happy they were able to pull him out, and he could drive it away, but was surprised when he stepped on the brake. "Backing into the salt marsh damaged my brake line so I had to drive very slow and keep my hand on the emergency brake all the way to one of my friend's houses to get brake fluid." "When we started adding brake fluid, the engine was still hot and we spilled some which caused it to catch fire. We were able to put it out with a nearby hose, but man that night was WILD."

Rachel Bento, a senior, probably experienced the most trouble getting her permit. She had to go to the DMV multiple times, but was unable to take the test because of the lack of a birth certificate, or even failing. Rachel was finally able to get her permit and she says, "I was pumped! I drove right away."



Courtney Long didn't experience trouble getting her permit. Instead she had trouble with keeping her old car undented. Three weeks after getting the car, she dented the back, and a year later the Honda slid off the road on the way to school. No one was injured except for the car, who had to go to the shop.

FROM THE AGAWAM DINER

Congratulations
class 2013!

It is not the critic who counts;

*not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles, or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs, who comes up short again and again, because there is no effort without error and shortcoming; but who does actually strive to do the deeds; who knows great enthusiasms, the great devotions; who spends himself in a worthy cause; who, at the best knows in the end the triumph of high achievement, and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who neither know victory nor defeat.
